

Alana Abramson

Faculty, Department of Criminology at Kwantlen Polytechnic University
Surrey/Kamloops, BC, CA

Alana is a passionate educator, trainer, and transformative justice advocate.

Biography

Alana has been involved with the field of restorative justice as an academic, trainer, and practitioner since 1999. She has written about the roles of police and community in restorative practice while completing her Masters Degree in the School of Criminology at Simon Fraser University. Her doctoral work examines the student's experiences of transformation through restorative justice education at the post-secondary level. Alana has extensive practical experience implementing restorative approaches in prison, school, and community settings. She was the Executive Director of the North Shore Restorative Justice Society (2005-2013), Co-coordinator of the Alternatives to Violence Project (current), and Criminology Instructor at Thompson Rivers University, Simon Fraser University and Kwantlen Polytechnic University (current). Alana's expertise is in the area of youth justice, corrections, community corrections, restorative and indigenous justice. She brings a strong passion, refined skill and authentic caring to her teaching, practice, volunteer work, and training. Alana is currently living in Kamloops, BC.

Industry Expertise

Alternative Dispute Resolution, Corrections, Education/Learning, Professional Training and Coaching, Public Safety, Program Development, Research

Areas of Expertise

Restorative Justice, Transformative justice, Curriculum Development, Mediation in Conflict Resolution, Prison justice , Group facilitation, Consulting

Education

Simon Fraser University
Ph.D. Criminology

Simon Fraser University
MA Criminology

Simon Fraser University
BA (Honours) Criminology

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.