

Amy Black, Ph.D.

Professor of Political Science at Wheaton College

Wheaton, IL, US

Dr. Black has wide research & teaching interests in American Politics, including religion & politics, campaigns & elections, & Congress.

Biography

Amy E. Black is Professor of Political Science at Wheaton College (IL). She earned her Ph.D. in Political Science at M.I.T. A specialist in American Government, her research interests include religion and politics, the Presidency, and Congress. She is a past president of Christians in Political Science and served as an American Political Science Association Congressional Fellow in the office of Representative Melissa A. Hart.

Industry Expertise

Education/Learning, Research

Areas of Expertise and Research Interests

American Politics and Government, U.S. Congress, The American Presidency, Women and Politics, Religion and Politics, Campaigns and Elections, Evangelicals and Politics

Professional Affiliations

American Political Science Association : Member, Christians in Political Science : Past President, Midwest Political Science Association : Member

Education

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Ph.D. Political Science

Claremont McKenna College

B.A. Government

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.