

Anatoly Zhuplev, Ph.D.

Professor of Management, College of Business Administration at Loyola Marymount University

Los Angeles , CA, US

Biography

Anatoly Zhuplev is a professor of management at Loyola Marymount University. He is a Fulbright Scholar. Prior to joining the College of Business Administration faculty in 1990, Zhuplev taught at Northeastern University, the University of Maryland and Moscow Management Institute. He also worked for several non-profit organizations in Russia. He is the recipient of numerous academic awards during his 15-year tenure in Russian education; he has also received the Award for Outstanding Contribution to the Loyola Marymount University MBA Program. Zhuplev is a member of the International Management Development Association, on the Editorial Board of the Journal of East-West Business and a member of the Editorial Review Board for the Journal of Transnational Management.

Industry Expertise

Education/Learning, Business Services, Research, Training and Development

Areas of Expertise

Russia, International Business, International Entrepreneurship, International Development

Affiliations

Academy of International Business, International Academy of Corporate Management, International Management Development Association, U.S. Association for Small Business and Entrepreneurship

Education

Moscow Management Institute
Ph.D. Management

Moscow Engineer-Economics Institute
B.S. Economics

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.