

Andrew Verstein, J.D.

Professor of Law at Wake Forest University

Winston-Salem, NC, US

Verstein's vast knowledge of business law is heavily sought-after by media covering finance laws, insider trading, and corporate governance.

Biography

Andrew Verstein is a frequent contributor to major media outlets covering complex legal issues in the world of business and finance. Because his scholarly devotion to business law, corporate law, and finance law is extensive, he has written and presented on many topics, including insider trading, crowdfunding, financial benchmarks and indices, market manipulation, business entities, securities litigation, and the treatment of mixed motives in the law, among other related topics. Prior to joining Wake Forest faculty, he was the director of the Yale Law School Center for the Study of Corporate Law. His expertise and scholarship goes beyond U.S. borders, having taught at Fudan University and East China University of Political Science & Law in Shanghai.

Areas of Expertise

Financial Benchmarks, Securities and Commodities, Market Manipulation, Lending, International Business Law, Crowdfunding, Insider Trading, Investing, Litigation, Mixed Motives, Securities Litigation, Finance Law, Corporate Law, Corporate Governance, Corporate Finance, Contract Law, Contracts, China, Business Law, Business Entities

Event Appearances

The State of Crowdfunding and P2P Lending in the United States

University of International Business and Economics School of Law

Paper Presenter

Junior Faculty Workshop

Insider Trading in Commodities

Wake Forest University School of Law, Faculty Development Lunch

Benchmark Manipulation

Washington and Lee University School of Law, Junior Faculty Exchange

Benchmark Manipulation

Washington and Lee University School of Law, Junior Faculty Exchange

Education

Yale Law School
J.D. Law

Dartmouth College
A.B. Philosophy

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.