

Bill O'Keefe

Vice President for Government Relations and Advocacy at Catholic Relief Services

Washington, DC, US

Based on Capitol Hill, Bill O'Keefe oversees CRS' efforts to impact U.S. foreign policy in ways that reduce poverty overseas.

Description

Based in Washington, D.C., Bill O'Keefe oversees efforts to ensure that U.S. foreign policy reduces poverty and promotes justice in developing countries where CRS works. He and his staff lobby Congress and the Administration on a range of issues, including migration, refugees, food security, and all aspects of U.S. foreign aid. Bill also works to involve American Catholics in public campaigns for policy change.

Bill joined CRS in 1987 as a project manager in Tanzania, where he chaired the sub-regional task force on HIV and AIDS. He held several positions supporting CRS' work in Africa before beginning his work in advocacy in 2001. Bill has developed CRS' positions in the areas of U.S. foreign aid and agricultural trade, and ran a two-year campaign to involve Americans in improving U.S. policy toward Africa.

Bill holds a bachelor's degree from Yale and a master's degree in public policy from the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard.
