Description

My name is Brent Matsalla, and I am the Director of Digital Media – Keynote Speaker at QR Estates.

I have a strong background in Information Technology and Applied Systems and Digital Media Technology. I work as a freelance market strategist and social media consultant for many prominent corporations and individuals. Most recently, the Digital Media Director and co-founder of the newly launched QR Estates, a QR code and mobile listing service for REALTORS®.

QR Estates has a strong mandate to help educate REALTORS® across Canada by facilitating many future seminars, courses and workshops filtered and tailored to the Real Estate industry.

Using Twitter as a referral engine, we have put together a team of the Pacific Northwest's most influential speakers. Together, we have covered all the bases of what a REALTOR® must know to stay ahead of the competition and be successful in these changing times.

Testimonials

Bryan Watkins

We had the enormous pleasure of having Brent Matsalla of QREstates in to speak to our group of Realtors during a regular Thursday training session. I found Brent to be engaging, prepared and very well informed on the subject of mobile marketing and social media as a marketing tool. His presentation was exactly on schedule and e allowed loads of time for Q & A of which there was much!

As a social media neophyte I was concerned that I would completely lost, but, Brent was easily able to provide "real world"™ applications and examples and present the information that was understandable and relevant.

I would not hesitate to have Brent in for another session in the future
