

Candace Enman

CPA, CA, President at WelchGroup Consulting

Ottawa, ON, CA

Business Value Enhancement Specialist

Candace is the President of WelchGroup Consulting, where she runs a successful Chairman's View, an M&A Practice and Contract CFO Practice that helps business owners think & act strategically in their companies - assisting owners in managing their growth objectives, preparing their business for an upcoming transition and buying and selling companies. She is focused on improving the value in small and medium sized enterprises, by ensuring that their profits are both sustainable and transferable.

Candace has more than 15 years of financial and management experience. After obtaining her CPA, CA designation in 1999, she spent 10 years in Senior Finance and Management roles, which allowed her to go beyond keeping score. She has played key roles in all aspects of growing a business, including new system implementations, evaluation of new business opportunities, implementing human resource practices and policies and providing sound advice to business owners. Candace believes that successful businesses do more than keep score. They build value from the ground up and she brings that philosophy to all of her engagements.

Building Value in Your Business

What is your business really worth? Most business owners have trouble separating their role as CEO (focusing on performance) from their role as owner (focusing on value). Under the Chairman's View methodology, an integrated software and consulting approach, WelchGroup Consulting works to identify your business's strengths and weaknesses, guide you to improve performance, and build sustainable and transferable value.

Andrew Sutton

It was an absolute pleasure to work with Candace at Club Assist. She was instrumental in guiding the company through a significant growth phase and developed an expanding finance team to meet the demand. I admire Candaces professionalism, integrity and keen operational insight.

Brock Gourlay

My working experience with Candace is one that I can describe as true teamwork. Candace is a very knowledgeable professional who uses her skills to help drive the performance of the business. In her time at Club Assist Candace played an important role on the senior management team and help lead a tremendous period of growth and expansion of the North American business. I appreciate and value her professionalism, honesty, and friendship

Jim Vollandt

Candace had incredible insight into the business and her accumen was second to none. She thoroughly understood risk analysis and cash flow considerations which propelled Club Assist into a major player in the battery industry. I relied on her judgement often and it always proved to be the right call.

Anne Fowlie

Consumate professional with great pride in work well done; a team player and strategic thinker.

Dan Dempster

I had the great pleasure of working with Candace for several years. Her competence and professionalism always impressed me, as did her interpersonal skills.
