President at FanTrust

Vancouver , BC, CA

Veteran media, technology & entertainment strategist. C-level public company leadership. Board directorships & international publications.

Biography

I run FanTrust Entertainment Strategies, where we are celebrating our 15th year. At FanTrust we lead in entertainment business development and hit-making. Our clients come to us with media rights/technology for new strategic deals, financing and digital growth. Once we package, negotiate and close these relationships for our clients, we do the audience-building and social networking to drive consumer value and revenue from these deals. We also advise entertainment CEO's on how to lead, structure and operationalize publicly-traded and privately-held companies for digital success.

With extensive expertise at the intersection of entertainment, technology and finance, I also advise investors on evaluating top performers, valuing start-up ventures and tackling media business due diligence, as well as establishing new funds for digital media. Fund clients include public and private funds, VC's, Angels and hedge funds.
