

Christine Carpino

Assistant Professor at Cedar Crest College

Allentown, PA, US

Dr. Carpino earned her BA in Politics from Fairfield University and her MA and PhD from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Dr. Carpino earned her BA in Politics from Fairfield University and her MA and PhD from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Prior to teaching at Cedar Crest, she taught at Santa Clara University and JFK University in California.

Dr. Carpino also serves at the Research Coordinator for the Lehigh Valley Research Consortium, a program of the Lehigh Valley Association of Independent Colleges, which connects local faculty with community organizations to conduct community-based research. She is also the Program Manager for the Rider Pool Foundation's Collective Impact Fellowship, a nine-month opportunity for local community leaders to receive training in collective impact and community engagement strategies.

At Cedar Crest, Dr. Carpino teaches courses on women in politics, public policy, international relations, and American politics.

Public Policy, International Affairs, Education/Learning, Research

Public Policy, International Relations, American Politics

Fairfield University

BA Politics

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

MA Political Science

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

PhD Political Science

Competent Communicator Award

Toastmasters International, 2013.

John Patrick Hagan Award

For Graduate Student Teaching, University of North Carolina, Department of Political Science, 2009.

Future Faculty Fellow

University of North Carolina, Center for Teaching and Learning, 2007.

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.