I help entrepreneurs as Managing Director of StartFast Venture Accelerator, Internet of Everything accelerator and fund, as an angel investor in >32 portfolio companies, as mentor for multiple accelerators, and as a member of the founding team of Kyros Global Accelerator Fund, which will lead investments in high-growth tech companies.

I have built world-class enterprise software companies, SaaS business models, and a chip manufacturer. I've made lasting friendships, invented cool tech, built winning teams, successfully raised over $47 million in capital and generated significant shareholder wealth through exits totaling $101 million and counting. I love sharing what I've learned and I'm well known for cutting through the seemingly complex to the essentials. I've done every job there is in a technology business, from Corporate Development to Coding, Corporate Strategy to VLSI design, General Management, Sales, Marketing, Product Management, managing local and off-shore software development, Mergers and Acquisitions, Intellectual Property, and International Operations in both public and private companies from bootstrap startup to $500M in annual revenues. I enjoy building, coaching and leading teams to produce outstanding results, build competitive advantage, and get the company acquired.

Specialties: Venture capital, general management, building world-class teams, strategy, partnerships, mergers and acquisitions, indirect channels, intellectual property, technology, sales and marketing, positioning, writing, public speaking and other market-facing activities.
