

Daniel Gitterman, Ph.D.

Thomas Willis Lambeth Distinguished Chair in Public Policy, College of Arts and Sciences at UNC-Chapel Hill

Chapel Hill, NC, US

Daniel Gitterman is the Thomas Willis Lambeth Distinguished Chair in Public Policy at UNC-Chapel Hill.

Description

Daniel Gitterman is the Thomas Willis Lambeth Distinguished Chair in Public Policy at UNC-Chapel Hill. He is also director of the Honors Carolina Seminar in Public Policy and Global Affairs (Washington, DC).

Gitterman's research interests include: the American welfare state and politics of social policy, and the political economy of globalization and labor standards.

His book, "Boosting Paychecks: The Politics of Supporting America's Working Poor," published by Brookings Institution Press, examines the role of federal income tax and minimum wage in supporting low-income working families in the United States. Gitterman has published on the politics of globalization and labor standards, including "European Integration and Labor Market Cooperation: A Comparative Regional Perspective" and "A Race to the Bottom, a Race to the Top or the March to a Minimum Floor? Economic Integration and Labor Standards."

Gitterman is co-author/editor (with Peter A. Coclanis) of "A Way Forward: Building a Globally Competitive South," published by the Global Research Institute and distributed as an e-book by UNC Press, and "Moving Beyond Plato Versus Plumbing: Toward Individualized Education and Career Passways for All North Carolinians," a discussion paper released by the Global Research Institute.

At UNC-Chapel Hill, he has received fellowships from the Institute for the Arts and Humanities (Academic Leadership Program) and the Global Research Institute (inaugural program on Globalization, the Economic Crisis and the Future of North Carolina).

He has received the Tanner Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching and the John L. Sanders Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching and Service at Carolina.

In 2013, Gitterman was inducted into The Order of the Long Leaf Pine, an award bestowed by the Governor to North Carolina citizens in recognition of a proven record of service to the state.

Topics

Public Policy and Practice, Domestic Policy, Social Policy, Globalization, Political Economy, Minimum Wage Policies, Low-Income & Excluded Populations, Economic Development, Health Policy, The Presidency

Education

Brown University

M.A., Ph.D. Political Science

University of Pennsylvania

M.A. Sociology

Connecticut College

B.A. Sociology, American Politics

Accomplishments

Order of the Long Leaf Pine

Bestowed by the Governor to North Carolina citizens in recognition of a proven record of service to the state.

John L. Sanders Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching

Awarded by The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Tanner Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching

Awarded by The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.