

David Favre

Professor of law and The Nancy Heathcote Professor of Property and Animal Law at Michigan State University

East Lansing, MI, US

An expert in animal within property, family and criminal law, as well as wildlife and international animal issues.

Biography

Professor Favre has been a law professor for over 40 years and is a pioneer in animal law. He has been interviewed in the national press many times over the past decade for a number of animal welfare, animal rights issues. He has written several articles and books dealing with animal issues including such topics as animal ethics, animal cruelty, wildlife law, the property status of animals, and international control of animal trade. His books include: Respecting Animals, Animal Law and Dog Behavior, Animal Law: Welfare, Interest, and Rights, and International Trade in Endangered Species. He also has presented to international audiences on these topics. He was a national officer of the Animal Legal Defense Fund and of the ABA Committee on Animal Law. He served as interim dean of the Law College from 1993 to 1996 and from 1999 to 2000. He teaches Property, International Environmental Law, and Animal Law.

Industry Expertise

Public Policy, Education/Learning, Research, Writing and Editing

Areas of Expertise

International Animal Issues, Animal Ethics, Animal Rights, Animal Welfare, Animal Cruelty

Event Appearances

Moving from Ethics to Law

Center for Animal Ethics Oxford University

III Global Animal Law Conference

University of Hong Kong

Marking Progress in US Animal Law

Fifth World Congress on Bioethics and Animal Rights

Education

College of William and Mary

J.D.

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.