Create stellar products by Measuring Customer Satisfaction and Social Media

More than 90% of new software products will have subscription based pricing. The subscription based pricing works on the model that you pay for the software that you use and the customer will renew the subscription if and only if they are satisfied with the product. The key to reaping the benefits of a subscription based pricing is to keep customers happy. This session will focus on how product managers can measure customer satisfaction and efficiently process feedback on social media

Accomplishments

Head of Sales Support, Americas – Google

Google is a global technology leader focused on improving the ways people connect with information. Google's innovations in web search and advertising have made its website a top internet property and its brand one of the most recognized in the world. The company builds products that they hope will make the web better—and therefore your experience on the web better. Google's mission is to organize the world's information and make it universally accessible and useful.

Board of Directors – Save One Life

Save One Life is a registered nonprofit international organization that offers individuals, families, companies and/or organizations the opportunity to sponsor a child or adult with a bleeding disorder in a developing country. Save One Life also directs resources to strengthen the capacity of bleeding disorder organizations to better meet the needs of their community.

Board of Directors – National Hemophilia Foundation

The National Hemophilia Foundation is dedicated to finding better treatments and cures for inheritable bleeding disorders and to preventing the complications of these disorders through education, advocacy and research. Its programs and initiatives are made possible through the generosity of individuals, corporations and foundations as well as through a cooperative agreement with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).
