The love for what one does, the love to create, the attitude towards individuality – Florian Mueck has proven these qualities. Many thanks for a perfectly trained and motivated team! Where rhetoric and teambuilding are concerned – this is our understanding of the pursuit of perfection.

I hired Florian to provide a public speaking workshop for a series of high potential managers in the service center that Citi has in Barcelona. The session was excellent. The most enjoyable course that I have witnessed on the subject of public speaking. Florian knows the subject thoroughly. He imparted the session with enthusiasm, passion and humour. Most important was the feedback from the managers. They all rated the session between ‘very good’ and ‘excellent’ and all recommended that Florian be hired again to give the session on the next leadership course that Citi holds. This says it all...!

More than 100 people enjoyed Florian’s educational training speech The Seven Minute Star. It was definitely one of the highlights of our HP EMEA Finance Training Day. It is not like any other rhetorical training. It is highly interactive. You get entertainment at its best, and still it is a very informative session. In 15 simple steps Florian shows how to implement those rhetorical tools in many different occasions. I can only recommend Florian as a speaker and trainer, if you need advice on how to speak in public.
