Business Transactions: Your First Acquisition

As corporate counsel, you are regularly called on to provide legal advice in the context of business transactions, whether an asset purchase or acquisition, share purchase or financing. This workshop will focus on the nuts and bolts of a typical private corporation acquisition with an emphasis on the role of corporate counsel during the transaction process, including an overview of M&A, due diligence, key components of the purchase agreement, and strategies for assessing and closing the deal.

M & A in 2012: Are there any Deals in the Pipeline?

What will the future bring for deal-making activity? Can boardroom desires trump economic uncertainty? Don't miss this important update on recent developments and emerging issues impacting companies, and what they mean for in-house counsel. CCCA's Grant Borbridge will discuss the economic landscape, healthiest sectors, competition for deals, opportunities for regional players, and special items of interest including tax trends, competition & foreign investment regulation, and distressed M & A.

Navigating the Family-Owned Business: Tips for In-house Counsel

Family-owned businesses face unique issues as well as routine issues that emerge around turf battles, shareholder control, compensation structures, and processes for strategic decision-making. In-house counsel in these environments require a depth of experience across multiple disciplines, but also high emotional intelligence to be able to handle the complexity of intra-family relationships. This session will provide strategies to help business families manage the important issues they face.

Managing Relationships in Business Transactions

At this session, CCCA's Grant Borbridge will discuss ways to ensure that personalities, competing priorities, and other impediments do not undermine the deal process. What are the most common stumbling blocks that arise in organizing and managing the deal project, and how can relationship minefields be avoided? What roles should each of the team members play in moving the deal forward? What are the best strategies for bringing the deal to a satisfactory conclusion?

Chair – Canadian Corporate Counsel Association

The Canadian Corporate Counsel Association (CCCA) provides a national forum and voice for in-house counsel to advance the development of their professional skills and careers as in-house counsel. An integral group within the Canadian Bar Association, the CCCA is dedicated to supporting and enhancing the interests of Canadian corporate counsel and provides uniquely Canadian perspectives, resources, tools, professional development, conferences and peer-to-peer networking opportunities.

Board of Directors – Canadian Bar Association

The Canadian Bar Association (CBA) is a professional, voluntary organization representing some 37,000 lawyers, judges, notaries, law teachers, and law students from across Canada. Through the work of its sections, committees and task forces at both the national and branch levels, the CBA is seen as an important and objective voice on issues of significance to both the legal profession and the public. The CBA is the essential ally and advocate of all members of the legal profession.

Executive VP, Investments & Chief Counsel – Emergo Group of Companies

Emergo is a relatively young organization with deep roots. As a multicultural transnational group, it built in 30 years a strong and respected presence among the families of nations. Since inception the company grew to more than 10,000 employees. Following a series of successful divestments, presently thousands of employees worldwide are adding to our expansion and financial strength. Our international network of experienced professionals enables us to execute almost any investment strategy.

Chair – Association of General Counsel of Alberta

The Association of General Counsel of Alberta was formed as a society under the Societies Act (Alberta) in 1986 to provide a networking vehicle for general counsel and to provide a forum to discuss and learn about issues of interest to the group.

Board of Directors – Fort Calgary Preservation Society

Fort Calgary is operated by the Fort Calgary Preservation Society. The Society's mandate is to preserve, utilize, develop, interpret and promote Fort Calgary for the benefit of the citizens and visitors to the city of Calgary. As Calgary's only National, Provincial and Municipal historic site, the Fort is a symbolic touchpoint for our shared history. Today Fort Calgary offers a place to remember and celebrate our past while planning for the future.
