

Gregory Ruzzin

Associate Professor of Production, School of Film and Television at Loyola Marymount University
Los Angeles, CA, US

Associate Professor of Production Film & Television at Loyola Marymount University

Biography

Gregory Ruzzin, MFA, Associate Professor in the School of Film and Television, teaches fiction and documentary directing at LMU. Ruzzin recently completed the feature documentary LOST CHILD?, a vibrant and moving portrait of his younger sister Alyssa, who struggles with epilepsy and a developmental disability. See www.lostchildmovie.com to view a trailer and learn more about Ruzzin and his creative team. Ruzzin is currently directing an ambitious interactive documentary project with, and about, a groundbreaking school for special needs children in Dublin, Ireland. THE MAGIC CHAIR Project incorporates a feature-length documentary film and interactive website that gives individuals with disabilities -- as well as family members, friends, and educators -- a platform to tell their own stories. See www.themagicchair.org for more information.

Industry Expertise

Education/Learning, Research, Training and Development, Media Production, Motion Pictures and Film

Areas of Expertise

Directing (Narrative and Documentary), Directing as a Design Medium, Documentary Filmmaking, Teaching Filmmaking, Short Films, Storyboarding for Live Action

Education

University of Southern California
MFA Cinema Production

University of Michigan
BGS Theater, Film, and Literature

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.