

Inge Steglitz

Associate Director at Michigan State University

East Lansing, MI, US

International educator with a focus on global and intercultural learning.

Biography

In an international education career spanning over 25 years, Dr. Steglitz, has worked and taught in the U.S. and Germany. Her academic background is in psychology and intercultural communication. As associate director of Michigan State University's Office for Education Abroad, she is responsible for Program Development, Curriculum Integration, and Faculty Development and Engagement. She has taught both on and off-campus courses on intercultural and global learning, and has written, among other topics, on orientation programming, culture learning/teaching and assessing intercultural competencies. Her dissertation research focused on the impact of study abroad experiences on students' cognitive development. Most recently, she co-edited (with Barbara Kappler Mikk) the third edition of NAFSA's "Learning Across Cultures: Locally and Globally." Inge has been an active NAFSA member for many years, serving on various leadership committees, including the 2016 Annual Conference Committee, which she chaired.

Industry Expertise

Education/Learning

Areas of Expertise

Education Abroad, Intercultural Education, Intercultural Communication, Global Learning

Education

University of Minnesota, USA

Ph.D. Intercultural Communication

University of Minnesota, USA

M.A. Intercultural Communication

Universitaet des Saarlandes, Germany

M.A. Psychology

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.