

Jeremy Goldbach

Senior Associate Dean of Faculty Affairs Tenure/Tenure-Track Faculty Associate Professor of Social Work Department of Children Youth and Families at USC Suzanne Dworak-Peck School of Social Work Los Angeles, CA, US

Dr. Goldbach focuses on the relationship between social stigma, stress, and health among minority populations.

Biography

Jeremy Goldbach is Director of the Center for LGBT Health Equity and joined the faculty in 2012 after completing both his master's and doctoral degrees in social work at The University of Texas at Austin. His work at UT-Austin was funded through the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's Center for Substance Abuse Prevention, specializing in prevention science.

His research is broadly focused on the relationship between social stigma, stress and health among lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender (LGBT) youth and adults. He currently holds funding from the National Institute on Minority Health and Health Disparities (NIMHD; 1R01MD012252), the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA), and the Department of Defense (DOD). Since joining the faculty, he has also been funded by the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development for psychometric instrument development (2014-17) The Trevor Project to explore pathways of suicidality among LGBTQ youth, the NIH Clinical and Translational Science Institute and through the Zumberge Small Grant Program.

He served from 2014-2017 as a member-at-large for the Society for Social Work and Research and sits on the Council on Social Work Education's Council on Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity and Expression and the National Association of Social Workers' National Committee on Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender Issues. His practice background includes both clinical and community organizing. Before returning for his doctoral education, Goldbach oversaw a large community-organizing project in Texas that funded 32 community coalitions to reduce substance use concerns through environmental, policy-based strategy.

Industry Expertise

Social Services, Health and Wellness, Education/Learning, Research

Areas of Expertise

Psychometrics, Health, Stress, Minority Health, Social Work, Social Work Education, Lgbt Issues, Stigma, Substance Abuse

Affiliations

National Association of Social Workers - Member, Society for Social Work and Research - Member, Society for Prevention Research - Member, National Hispanic Science Network - Member, Certified Prevention Specialist (Texas), License #699 - Certification, Master of Social Work (Texas), License #52762

Event Appearances

Green, D.C., Raymond, H.F., Goldbach, J.T. (2018, January)
Generational Considerations for Health Service Utilization by Gay Men

Schrager, S. M., Goldbach, J. T., & Mamey, M. R. (2017, March)
The Sexual Minority Adolescent Stress Inventory (SMASI)

Goldbach, J. T., Fulginiti, A., Rhoades, H., Bond, D., & Schrager, S. M. (2017, March)
Testing a mediated model of minority stress and suicide among LGBT adolescents

Schrager, S. M., Rusow, J., Nguyen, E., & Goldbach, J. T. (2017, March)
Recruitment and data collection in a savvy population

Goldbach J. T., Alessi, E., Austin, A., & Craig, S. (2017)
Engaging in clinically and developmentally informed research with sexual and gender minority youth

Education

The University of Texas at Austin
PhD

The University of Texas at Austin
MSSW

University of Rochester
BA

Accomplishments

USC Graduate Student Mentoring Award
2017

Sterling C. Franklin Distinguished Faculty Award
2016

Rainbow Alliance Social Work Caucus Faculty Recognition Award
2014

Journal of Social Work Practice and the Addictions Excellence in Dissertation Research (Honorable Mention)
2012

University of Texas at Austin Graduate Fellowship
2010-2011

Testimonials

Jane G. Clark

Jeremy is one of those rare people who have visionary skills. Professionally, this translates into an ability to create new opportunities for projects and agencies. He is able to see multiple possibilities, then chart a course of action to take the ideas into reality -- definitely the type of skill set that is useful in many ventures. In addition, his natural networking skills put people at ease in any working environment.

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.