

John Carlson

Professor at Michigan State University

East Lansing, MI, US

The impact of children's anxiety on their functioning in schools and at home is a primary focus of his research

---

Biography

John Carlson is a professor of school psychology. He is a Health Service Psychologist (HSP) and Licensed Psychologist (MI). His research interests include examining the utility of medical and psychological interventions on school-aged children's behavior in educational and other learning contexts. The impact of children's anxiety on their functioning in schools and at home is a primary focus of his research. Other interests include assessment, prevention and intervention for externalizing behaviors that impact preschool and classroom functioning. The primary focus of his work pertains to ensuring equitable and effective educational and mental health services for those children who are experiencing challenges at school, home or in the community.

---

Areas of Expertise

School Psychology, Family, Community, and Schools, Assessment, Measurement, and Evaluation, School, Family, and Community Counseling

---

Event Appearances

A systematic review on school-based trauma interventions

National Association of School Psychologists

Exploring mental health first aider training outcomes by workforce affiliation

National Association of School Psychologists

Fluoxetine treatment for selective mutism: Reduced symptomology across five children

National Association of School Psychologists

Identifying rates of parent-reported behavioral concerns and protective factors in a mid-Michigan Head

Start population: Data aggregation by county

University Undergraduate Research and Arts Forum

Exploring a subtyping system of selective mutism through an outpatient medical records review

Anxiety and Depression Association of America

---

Education

University of Wisconsin-Madison
Ph.D. School Psychology

University of Minnesota - Twin Cities
B.S. Child Psychology

---

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.