

Julian Ku

Professor of Law at Hofstra University

Hempstead, NY, US

Professor Ku is an expert on international law, constitutional law, U.S. foreign policy, and Chinese foreign policy.

Biography

Professor Ku teaches international, constitutional, and corporate law subjects. His main research interest is the intersection of international and domestic law. He has published articles on the constitutional aspects of foreign relations in the Yale Law Journal, the Supreme Court Review and Constitutional Commentary. He also is a co-founder of the international law weblog Opinio Juris and a contributing editor to Lawfareblog.com.

Before joining the Hofstra faculty in 2002, Professor Ku served as a law clerk to Judge Jerry Smith of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, and as an Olin Fellow and Lecturer in Law at the University of Virginia Law School. Professor Ku also practiced as an associate at the New York City law firm of Debevoise & Plimpton, specializing in litigation and arbitration arising out of international disputes. "Professor Ku has also been a visiting professor at the College of William and Mary, Marshall-Wythe School of Law in Williamsburg, Virginia, a Fulbright Distinguished Lecturer in Law at East China University of Politics and Law in Shanghai, and the National Taiwan University College of Law in Taipei.

Industry Expertise

Education/Learning

Areas of Expertise

International Law, International Law in U.S. Courts, Constitutional Law, Corporate Law, Trans Pacific Partnership

Affiliations

American Law Institute, U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, New York State Advisory Committee Member (2016)

Education

Yale University

J.D.

Yale University

B.A.

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.