

Kevin Newman

Digital News Evangelist & Anchor: CTV 'Question Period' at CTV News / Bell Media

Ottawa, ON, CA

Award-winning International Journalist, Producer & Digital 'Evangelist'

Biography

Kevin Newman is a distinguished national and international journalist who has been reporting for almost 30 years, covering or anchoring news in the midst of election nights, wars, revolutions and assassinations.

In 1984 Newman joined Global Sportsline and later reported from Queen's Park and Global's Ottawa Bureau. In the late 1980s, he became a correspondent for CTV National News, and covered stories in Alberta and the Canadian Arctic for CBC The National.

In 1994, Newman joined ABC News in New York and served as a back-up Anchor & correspondent for World News Tonight and co-hosted Good Morning America. He also co-anchored ABC World News Now and World News This Morning. A defining moment in Newman's career occurred when he effectively reported the breaking news of Princess Diana's death, earning rave reviews for his knowledgeable, assured delivery under tremendous pressure. Newman earned two Emmy Awards and a distinguished Peabody Award for his reporting and anchoring at ABC News.

Newman returned to Canada in 2001 as the Founding anchor & Executive Editor of Global National. Four years later it was Canada's #1 newscast, and his work earned multiple Gemini Awards as Best Anchor. In 2010 he departed the newscast to pursue his interest in digital media. He is currently Digital News Evangelist at Bell Media - Canada's leading media company - and Host of CTV News Question Period: Canada's #1 Sunday Morning political broadcast.

Throughout his varied career, Newman has interviewed some of the world's most memorable leaders, including Margaret Thatcher, Nelson Mandela, Bishop Tutu and Jimmy Carter. He has also traveled the world to deliver news from distant locations, including Afghanistan, Iraq, Israel, Iceland, Russia and The Vatican.

Newman is also founder of New Man Media Ltd. which has co-produced multiple documentaries and the reality series 'Operation: Unplugged'.
