

Lakia Scott, Ph.D.

Assistant Professor, Curriculum & Instruction at Baylor University

Waco, TX, US

Professor Lakia Scott currently conducts research on national reading and language intervention programs for urban students.

Description

Lakia M. Scott, Ph.D., is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Curriculum & Instruction at Baylor University. She currently teaches elementary reading methods and diversity issues courses to pre-service teachers. Scott has over ten years of combined experiences at the elementary, secondary, undergraduate and graduate teaching levels. She is a recognized scholar in the field of Urban Education, where she has a host of research publications, co-authored and co-edited books, book chapters, and educational evaluation reports.

Under the research trajectory of providing educational access and opportunity for traditionally minoritized student populations, Dr. Scott has co-edited “Culturally Affirming Literacy Practices for Urban Elementary Students,” a textbook about literacy gaps, intended for use by pre-service and in-service teachers. She has also published in numerous journals including Urban Education Research & Policy Annuals, Journal for Multicultural Education, Social Education, and the International Journal of Interdisciplinary Social Sciences.

Dr. Scott is currently conducting research on national reading and language intervention programs for urban students with specific focus on the Urban Dialect. Her current research interests include creating urban literacy initiatives to advance student academic outcomes, increasing multicultural awareness and perspectives in teacher education programs, and extending the discussion on the academic and cultural relevance of Historically Black Colleges and Universities.

Industry Expertise

Education/Learning, Research, Writing and Editing

Topics

Diversity Issues, Elementary Reading Methods, Language Intervention Programs, Urban Literacy Initiatives, Multicultural Awareness, Urban Education, Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs), Culturally Appropriate Literature for Urban Students

Affiliations

Education

University of North Carolina, Charlotte

Ph.D. Urban Education

Prairie View A&M University
M. Ed. Education

Texas Southern University
B.A. Journalism

Accomplishments

Best Paper in Session

Dr. Lakia M. Scott, received Best Paper in Session Award from 2012 Orlando International Academic Conference, 2012.

Top Faculty Paper, Entertainment Studies Division

Dr. Lakia M. Scott, received Top Faculty Paper, Entertainment Studies Division from Association for Education in Journalism and Mass Communication, 2015.

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.