

Lisa F. Clark

Research Associate at University of Saskatchewan

Saskatoon , SK, CA

Political Scientist researching food politics and food policy

Biography

Lisa holds a PhD in political science from Simon Fraser University. Currently, she is a research associate with the Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics at the University of Saskatchewan. She is examining the political and socioeconomic dimensions of innovative ready-to-use foods. Her research interests include food security, food quality standards and labelling, food safety regulations, and technology & innovation in the food system. Lisa's work has appeared in Food Policy, Science and Public Policy, Social Philosophy Today and most recently, Food Law & Policy. Her new book, The Changing Politics of Organic Food in North America is available in hardback and e-book from Edward Elgar Publishing. Lisa is also a co-host on The Laundry List - feminist talk radio show broadcasting from Saskatoon.

Industry Expertise

Agriculture and Farming, Food Distribution, Food Processing, Food Production, Public Policy, Food and Beverages

Areas of Expertise

Food Agriculture & Environment, Public Policy Analysis, Governance & Regulation , Innovation, Food Safety and Security, Food Policy, Food Politics, Risk & Governance, Agriculture, Biotechnology, organic agriculture, Organic Food

Event Appearances

Consuming information: Packaging Facts & Processing Perceptions

Saskatchewan Institute of Agrologists

Politics and organic food

SaskOrganics AGM

Panel on Women in Organic Agriculture

Organic Connections conference

Education

Simon Fraser University

PhD Political Science

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.