

Mark Miller

Professor of History at Southern Utah University

Cedar City, UT, US

Specializing in Native American identity and citizenship, American Indian history, and world civilization

Biography

Dr. Mark Miller is the department chair and professor of history at Southern Utah University. His research and teaching specialties include United States History, American West, Borderlands, Indigenous Culture and History, World Civilization, and Latin America. He has published articles and books on modern American Indian History, most recently Forgotten Tribes (2006) and Claiming Tribal Identity (2013). He has published articles on race and ethnicity, on indigenous identity and politics in several journals.

Dr. Miller has been quoted in The Wall Street Journal, The Washington Post, and other publications on issues of tribal recognition. In the past several years his research on the United Houma Nation and other Louisiana tribes was noted in the AP Business Insider, AP The Big Story, and the Shreveport Times. Most recently his work was quoted in, "Meet the Native American Rachel Dolezal," in The Daily Beast:

Dr. Miller has a bachelor's degree from Texas A&M University, and masters and a doctorate from the University of Arizona.

Industry Expertise

Education/Learning, Writing and Editing

Areas of Expertise

Mormon History, Native American Identity and Citizenship, Tribal Recognition, World Civilization, Borderlands, American Indian History, Race and Ethnicity, History, Native Americans, Indigenous Culture, American West, Native Americans 20th Century, Environmental History

Affiliations

American Association of University Professors, Western History Association, Rocky Mountain Council for Latin American Studies, American Society for Ethnohistory, Association for Borderlands Studies, Phi Alpha Theta, Southwestern Social Sciences Association, Mormon History Association

Education

Texas A&M University

B.A.

University of Arizona

M.A.

University of Arizona

Ph.D. United States, Native Americans, American West, Borderlands

Accomplishments

Professor of the Year Award

Finalist

Distinguished Educator of the Year

Southern Utah University

Outstanding Scholarship Award

College of Humanities and Social Sciences at Southern Utah University

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.