

Naeemah Clark

Associate Professor of Communications at Elon University

Elon, NC, US

Naeemah Clark is an associate professor of communications who studies the media and entertainment industries.

---

Biography

Naeemah Clark is an associate professor in the School of Communications at Elon University. She has edited the book, "African Americans in the History of U.S. Media," co-authored the textbook "Diversity in US Media," published work in Journalism History, American Behavioral Scientist, and has presented numerous papers at various conferences. Dr. Clark is interested in studying and teaching about economic, programming, and diversity issues related to the media and entertainment industries.

Before coming to Elon in 2009, Dr. Clark worked at the University of Tennessee-Knoxville and Kent State University. She has a Ph.D. and M.A. in mass communication from the University of Florida and a B.S. in English Education from Florida State University. Since coming to Elon in 2009, Dr. Clark has led student groups to Vietnam, Berlin, and Central Florida.

---

Areas of Expertise

Telecommunications, Mass Communication, Diversity Issues, Television Culture

---

Education

University of Florida

Ph.D. Mass Communication

University of Florida

M.A. Mass Communication - Telecommunications

Florida State University

B.A. Education

---

Accomplishments

Member

LGBTQIA Task Force

Member

General Studies Council

Member

Inclusive Community Council

Board Member

Women's Resource Center of Alamance County

---

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.