Pauline Armour is Director, Corporate Development at Diabetes Canada

Pauline Armour is Director, Corporate Development at the Canadian Diabetes Canada. She brings a wealth of experience to her role at the Diabetes Canada, as an award-winning strategic sales and marketing leader with more than two decades of health-care domain experience. Pauline's ability to deliver aggressive sales growth through the development of highly effective teams and sales training is driven by her passion for improving the lives of those living with diabetes.

As the mother of a child living with type 1 diabetes, Pauline knows first-hand the need to raise much-needed funds for research, education and programming. Her role at the CDA allows her to work with corporate Canada to support the needs of those living with and affected by diabetes.
