If you want to improve your business, plan to sell it!

If you have ever "staged" your home for sale, you know what we mean. You paint, tidy, repair, mow, plant, get rid of clutter. You get around to doing those fix-up projects you have been putting off. By the time you have finished, you begin to think: "Wow, this is actually a really nice place! Perhaps I should stay." Whether you sell or don't sell, cleaning out the attic (physically and metaphorically) is often long overdue.

Accomplishments

Public Relations Officer for District 60 Toastmasters International

This District-level responsibility is a challenging but very interesting role. It involves branding, marketing, media relations, arranging interviews, choosing the award winners and hosting the Communications and Leadership award luncheon at the Spring and Fall conference plus a variety of PR projects. These include arranging the booth at the Job Fair, designing PR materials and banners, website articles, newsletter editing and circulation and any other project that impacts the brand.

President of Toronto Operetta Theatre 1997-2005

This volunteer role was an exciting opportunity to help a not-for-profit arts organization achieve stability, financial success and volunteer engagement. The role included leading the volunteer board, fund-raising, successful grant application to municipal, Ontario and Canada Arts councils, Audience feedback analysis, performance planning and budgeting. We also opened a rehearsal centre as a home and source of income for the organization.

Political Candidate

Achieved 14,870 votes as a Candidate in the 2006 Federal Election. The winter campaign was a great achievement by the campaign team as we increased the votes for our party by over 3,000 from the previous election. This was achieved with a minimal budget and in opposition to a sitting cabinet minister.

Biff McGruff

Published and released an album of eclectic music - Rock, Ballad, Funk, Punk "Flat Out" by Biff McGruff in partnership with Scott Maynard. I wrote the lyrics, Scott arranged and performed the music. Available on Bandcamp.com/biffmcgruff
