

Peter Hoffman

Associate Professor of Geography and Director of Urban Studies at Loyola Marymount University

Los Angeles, CA, US

Bellarmino College of Liberal Arts

Description

Dr. Hoffman, Associate Professor of Geography, is the Program Director and teaches courses in Urban Studies each semester. He also serves as the primary academic advisor for all majors and minors in the program—working closely with Urban Studies students to insure their academic programs reflect their careers objectives and/or plans for graduate school.

Dr. Hoffman conducts research in the areas of urban planning, historic preservation, and economic development in the United States and internationally. He combines his academic research with professional consulting and community service. He currently serves as a member of a local city planning commission.

Dr. Hoffman has traveled extensively as a lecturer for the American Geographical Society and various alumni and travel groups. He was the Director of LMU's study abroad program in Cuernavaca, Mexico, and spent summers in Mexico for 13 years.

Industry Expertise

Education/Learning, Training and Development, Research

Topics

Urban Geography, Urban Planning, Postmodern Urbanism

Affiliations

Education

University of California, Los Angeles

Ph.D. Geography

Univ. of Arizona

M.A. Geography, Area Development, and Urban Planning

University of California, Los Angeles

B.A. Geography

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.