

Philip Hannah

Director at Seven Questions

London, London, GB

An evangelist for the improvement of decision making and planning through the application of tested techniques and wargaming tools

Description

Philip served for 17 years in the British Army's elite Gurkha infantry before becoming a management consultant. He recently established Seven Questions, a London-based strategy consultancy specializing in providing decision support to clients in the Europe, the Middle East and USA. In addition to his work to develop crisis management strategies for the protection of some of the UK's most sensitive sites, he is an advocate of the application of military and business wargaming techniques to stress-test and refine plans and assumptions for public and private organizations.

Availability

Keynote, Moderator, Panelist, Workshop, Author Appearance, Corporate Training

Industry Expertise

Security, Management Consulting, Nuclear

Topics

Decision Making in High Reliability Organisations, Challenges of Nuclear and Cni Security, Military Planning & Decision Making Techniques in Corporate Environments, Business Wargaming, Veille Economique

Affiliations

Past Talks

Title

UK Counter Terrorism Expo

Title

CNi Symposium for Security Resilience Innovation & Debate

Title

World Institute for Nuclear Security Workshop

Title

Management & Leadership Development Workshop

Title

UK National Police Improvement Agency Firearms Conference

Education

Cambridge University

MA

Cranfield University

MA Defence Technology & Management

UK Joint Services Command & Staff Course

MA (equivalent)

Cambridge University

2:1 BA Hons (Cantab) Social Anthropology

Harvard Business School

Professional Education Professional Services Firms

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.