Founder of Canberra Clinical and Forensic Psychology in Canberra City

Biography

Professor Bruce Stevens was born in the USA, but has spent most of his life in Australia. Bruce served in parish ministry as an Anglican minister in the parishes of St John's Reid, an associate in Church of the Redeemer in Boston and rector of St Pauls Millis, then Holy Covenant, Jamieson. In 1993, Bruce went into private practice as a clinical psychologist and continued with honorary ministry at St James Kippax and All Saints Ainslie. John has taught pastoral counselling at St Mark's for many years. Bruce founded Canberra Clinical and Forensic Psychology in Canberra City. The last five years, Bruce was the convenor of the clinical psychology training program at University of Canberra and in February 2015, came to CSU/St Mark's as Wicking Professor of Ageing and Practical Theology and director of CAPS. Bruce presently worships at Wesley Uniting Church in Forrest, Canberra.
