

Robert Johansen

Co-Director at Cerritos Psychological Center

Tustin, CA, US

A new recipe for creating, enjoying and sustaining intimacy.

Robert N. Johansen, Ph.D., is a member of the American Psychological Association and co-director of the Cerritos Psychological Center, where he has been in practice for forty years, specializing in couple's therapy and supervising interns. He has co-authored two books and taught psychology at several colleges/universities. Dr. Johansen has lectured at UCLA, the Milton Erickson International Foundation, CAMFT, NP., ABC radio, UCI educational TV, and continuing education at Alliant International University. He is married and has two adult children and three grandchildren. He enjoys traveling with his wife.

Keynote, Moderator, Panelist, Workshop, Host/MC, Author Appearance, Corporate Training

Education/Learning, Health and Wellness, Mental Health Care

Ptsd, Psychology, Couple's therapy

American Psychological Association, American Association of University Professors, California Association of Post-Secondary Educators, California Association of Marriage and Family Therapists, Bilingual Association for California Community Colleges, California State Psychological Association

Chicago School of Professional Psychology

Ph.D. Clinical psychology

California State University, Fullerton

MA Experimental Psychology

California State University, Long Beach

BA Experimental Psychology

Author - A New Paradigm for the Intimate Relationship,
The Therapist May 2006

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.