

Ryan Andral

Technical Director, Partner at Secret Location

Toronto, ON, CA

Freshen up your new media projects with this award-winning technical director specializing in digital media and emerging technologies

As an award winning programmer and technical director, Ryan Andral has worked on a number of large integrated advertising campaigns and independent projects. His work has garnered many online awards including FWA's, as well receiving Digital Marketing Awards and Canadian New Media Awards (CNMA). His work has also been featured in publications such as MarketingMag and Communication Arts.

In addition to his project achievements, he has been the recipient of the CNMA Programmer of the Year award for 2007 and was a finalist again in 2008.

He has in past worked on development for websites, applications, and hardware development solutions for interactive displays and gestural user interfaces. As technical director for Secret Location he's been a driving force for pushing through new technologies and creating ideas to foster how we interact with one another.

Throughout his career he has lead development for a number of Bell Fund projects including Crash Addicts and ZOS Interactive. In addition to this he is both an advocate for the Papervision3D engine at Flash conferences and an avid user and contributor. His work with 3D integration on the Flash platform makes his experience with our technical goals for this project ideally suited.
