Mompreneur expert that teaches women how to live a life of purpose, power and purpose

Description

Homeschooling mother of 5, Teisha Shelby-Houston (Lady T) specializes in helping women grow from mom to mompreneur!

Lady T taught and trained employees in organizations throughout the U.S and the U.K. for years when she "started feeling guilty about training people to be better employees". So she turned to her passion and focused on helping people to become their own boss; teaching them how to start a home-business that centers on their passion and purpose.

Today she is considered a Mompreneur Expert and shares strategies for success-along with 19 other experts-in the book Mom Entrepreneur Extraordinaire. Lady T's Blogtalk shows and her local Women's Power Networking Group have both positioned her in the middle of mompreneurs where she proudly serves them in their endeavor of entrepreneurship and motherhood. This has allowed her to perfect her CATapult Coaching Program, a system that helps moms get focused, balanced & profitable!

She has been an invited guest on Oprah, a recipient of The Woman of Excellence 2010 Award and the contributor of 3 online magazines. Her message is "an empowered mom affects generations" and her mission is to empower as many as she can reach!
