Scottish Director at Communication Consultants

Broxburn, West Lothian, GB

UK Public Speaking Champion 2008 & 2011

Description

Public Speaking by a trained Speaker.

I hold qualifications in public speaking and communication from Junior Chamber International, Victoria College of Music London, the Association of Speakers Clubs and the London Academy of Music and Dramatic Art (LAMDA). I have won a total of 17 speech competitions including two national titles. I am currently building my experience and reputation as a trainer and keynote speaker. I am a Director with Communication Consultants and have delivered training to the following organisations:

Conservative Party UK
Junior Chamber International
Royal Observatory Edinburgh
Scottish Youth Parliament
Young Speakers Initiative

Below are some recommendations from people I have worked alongside or trained:

“Thomas is a great asset to any organisation, he will give your presentation that polished but not too polished feel. I was left with more confidence in what I can achieve when I'm speaking in public. Mine was in the Political world but the benefits can be used in most businesses.” Dominic Gilham - UK Politician

“I saw Thomas win the National Final of the Association Speakers Clubs speech competition in Edinburgh in April 2011. No mean feat as this is the countrys most pretigious speaking body. Thomas is a powerful speaker who commands attention and holds his audiences interest throughout.” Terry Ryan - Motivational and After Dinner Speaker.

“Thomas is an inspirational speaker, without really intending to be. He speaks with passion and holds the audience in the palm of his hand. I cannot imagine any situation where he would not stand out from the crowd for his communication skills.” Gwyneth Millard - National Education Director of the Association of Speakers Clubs.

Testimonials

Terry Ryan

“I saw Thomas win the National Final of the Association Speakers Clubs speech competition in Edinburgh in April 2011. No mean feat as this is the countrys most pretigious speaking body. Thomas is a powerful speaker who commands attention and holds his audiences interest throughout.”

Michael Ronayne

“Thomas is a powerful and compelling communicator, who puts his point across with the utmost clarity. I have always been struck by the apparent ease and confidence with which he seems to command the attention of a group of people. As a trainer, in public speaking or communication, he can clearly 'walk his talk' and models what he teaches excellently! But then....you would expect that from a double National Public Speakng Champion, wouldn't you?”

Gwyneth Millard

“Thomas is an inspirational speaker, without really intending to be. He speaks with passion and holds the audience in the palm of his hand. I cannot imagine any situation where he would not stand out from the crowd for his communication skills.”
